

Indiana Telephone Privacy

My telephone is for my use and operates at my convenience -- not that of anyone soliciting me for business. We used to get unsolicited calls all during the day and evening from horribly-mannered sales people or telemarketers leading us to believe that they were calling about our accounts when they just wanted to "up sell" us to get even more money from us. We still get unsolicited fax calls (yes, on our home line) which ring in in the middle of the night (sometimes, at 3, 4, 5 and 6 am). Please abandon all efforts that would weaken Indiana's Telephone Privacy laws. These banks and other organizations opposing Indiana's law don't realize the damage they're doing to their reputations -- I will simply not do business with any bank or any other organization that opposes my right to tell them, collectively, "don't call me....if I need you, I'll call you." Ridiculous!
